Amnsements.

CADEMY OF MUSIC-d and 8-The Old Homestead. BLIOU OPERA HOUSE—2 and 8—A Brass Monkey.
BROADWAY THEATRE—2 and 8—Mr. Earnes of New-York CASINO-2 and 8-The Yeomen of the Guard.
DALY'S THEATRE-2 and 8:15-Lottery of Love. CKSTADER'S-2 and 8-Minstrels. GRAND OPERA HOUSE-2 and 8-The Kaffir Diamond. HARRIGAN'S PARK THEATRE 2 and 8 -Waddy Googan. LYCEUM THEATRE 2 and 8-15 - Lord Chumiey. MADISON AVE. AND 59TH-ST. -Day and Evening - Jeru

MADISON EQUARE THEATRE-5:30-A Legal Wreck. NIBLO'S 2 and 8—The Stowaway.

BTAR THEATRE—2 and 8—Tilly Till.

STANDARD THEATRE—2 and 8—Philip Herne.

STH AVENUE THEATRE—2 and 8—A Sad Coquette

14TH STREET THEATRE—2 and 8—Fascination. 3D-AVE. AND 63D-ST.-American Institute Fair. 6TH-AVE. AND 19TH-ST.-Gettysburg.

Index to Advertisements.

Page.	Colt Page.	Col.
Amusements	5.6 Lectures & Meetings. 11	6
Appouncements12	4 Lest and Found 4	3
Bankers and Brokers.11	5 Marriages and Deaths 7	- 0
Board and Rooms 5	1.3 Miscellaneous12	0.0
Busmess Chances 11	6 Misoellaneous 8	9
Business Notices 6	1 Musical Instruments. 4	10
Dancing Academies. 9	4 New Publication 8	4.2
Dividend Notices11	6 Ocean Steamers 4	9
Election Notice9	1.6 Professional	7
Election Notice10	1.6 Proposals 8	ě
Election Notice11	1-4 Real Estate 4	1 to 10
Dry Goods4	6 Railroads 8	0.0
Financial11	4-5 Special Notice 7	F 4
Help Wanted	5 Situations Wanted 5	D-3
Horses and Carriages 5	2-3 Steamboats 5	2
Hotels 4	4 Teachers S	4
instruction 8	3-4 Winter Resorts 4	Section 1

Business Notices

OFFICE FURNITURE
In Great Variety, manufactured by
T. G. SELLEW.
111 Futton-st., New-York.
Desks, Library Tables, &c.

TRIBUNE TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

1 year, 6 mes. 3 m

2 affy, 7 days a week . $3 50 $4 75 $2

Daily, without Sunday . 7 50 $75 $2

Sunday Tribune . 2 00 100

Weekly Tribune . 2 00

Extract a prepaid by Tribune exemt on Daily on countries, in which cases extra postage will be by subscribers.

orit by Postai Order, Express Order, Check, Draft or sterral Lotter, each or I rostai Note, if sent in an unregistered letter, be at owner's risk, tain outce of The Tribune, 154 Nassaust, New-York, ress all correspondence simply "The Tribune," New-

BRANCH OFFICES OF THE TRIBUNE.
Advertusements for publication in The Tribune, and lers for regular delivery of the daily paper, will be selved at the following branch offices in New York:
Branch Office, 1,238 Broadway, 9 a. m. to 9 b. m.
No. 950 Broadway, between 22d and 23d sts., till 8 p. m.
No. 368 West 23d-st., 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.
No. 760 3d-ave., near 37th-st., 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.
No. 100 3d-ave., near 37th-st., 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.
No. 180 East 125th-st., near 3d-ave., 10 a. m. to 7:30 Union Square, No. 153 4th-ave., corner 14th-st. 1.708 1steve. No. 180 East 125th st., open until 7:80 p. m. IN OTHER CITIES. Washington-1,322 Fest. London-26 Bedford-st. Strand.

New-Mork Daily Tribune.

FOUNDED BY HORACE GREELEY

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1888.

TWELVE PAGES.

THE NEWS THIS MORNING.

Foreign.-Minister Phelps had an interview with Lord Salisbury relative to Lord Sackville's letter; the British Premier has sent dispatches to Lord Sackville deploring his action. - Presiding Justice Hannen, of the Parnell Commission, intimated to Sir Richard Webster that his speech in behalf of "The Times" was long enough. A Boulangist meeting in Paris broke up in a fight. - The strained relations between Germany and the Vatican may lead to the recall of the German Envoy at Rome, Baron Von Schloezer.

Domestic.-Chauncey M. Depew made a speech in Buffalo. - Mr. Powderly emphatically reiterated his adherence to Protection. === There were twenty-three new cases of yellow fever and two deaths at Jacksonville. - General Harrison had few callers. ____ Judge Thurman spoke in Lima, Ohio. ___ Admiral David D. Porter recommended improvement in the apprentice system of the Navy.

while suffering from delirium due to illness, threw herself from a third-story window of the Hotel Bristol, Forty-second-st. and Fifth-ave., and was killed. - A rousing Republican mass-meeting for workingmen held at Cooper Union. Bedell, the forger, explained in court the method by which he swindled his employers - The third day of registration showed a considerable gain over the same day in 1884. === Colonel Gerard L. Mc Kenzie died. = Stocks dull with a general appreciation in values, closing strong.

The Weather.-Indications for to-day: Warmer, with rain. Temperature yesterday: Highest, 59 degrees: lowest, 50; average, 53 1-4.

This is positively the last day for registration in this city. Republicans of New-York, off until too late. You can register between self-interest. It is, however, the only sug-8 a. m. and 9 p. m. Register! Register!!

In defiance of precedent and established rules of propriety, the President of the United States is to make a personal appeal to-day to the voters of this city for support in his candidacy for reelection. "The Sun" is authority for the statement that nothing like this has ever occurred before in our history. Mr. Cleveland's appeal will be a silent one, it is true, but it can possess scarcely less significance than a stump speech. In the light of his repeated violations of solemn uledges, and his erratic course in other respects. it is less surprising than it otherwise would be that Mr. Cleveland refuses to follow in the footsteps of his predecessors.

The desperation of the Democrats is exhibited by their resort to wilful falsehood. Take the case of Frederick Douglass, whose remark that the Republican majority in Indiana would not exceed 7,000 was perverted into a statement that he had given up that State, and has caused the Democratic managers to rejoice exceedingly. In a dispatch from Hartford this morning Mr. Douglass nails this contemptible Democratic lie. He is full of hope, and entirely confident that General Harrison will not only carry Indiana, but that he will be triumphantly

The earnest appeal of the Republican Club of the City of New-York deserves to be heeded. Especially should it be brought to the attention of any Republicans who may deem it their duty to vote for Mr. Hewitt. Whatever reason may have been influential in inclining them to support Mr. Hewitt two years ago, there is none whatever now. The Republican candidate is so strong and excellent, and the enemy is so seriously divided, that the prospect of Republican success is increasing from day to day. The only thing essential to complete success is that every Republican shall stand by his party. This splendid opportunity to "redeem and reform the government of the city" by the election of Colonel Erhardt ought not to be thrown of the third day in any previous year. The total for the three days thus far is 252,833, acazy's offences were of a more personal nature.

In the civil service until you adopt the one-term principle in reference to the Presidency. So leng as the increase of 41,842 over the corresponding He rendered himself odious to the Grant Addignity. He was easily equal to the difficult cumbent can hope for a second term he following language:

My Friends, you will never have any ground reform the bland. After thirty-the above of in the Civil service until you adopt the one-term principle in reference to the Presidency. So leng as the increase of 41,842 over the corresponding He rendered himself odious to the Grant Addignity. He was easily equal to the difficult cumbent can hope for a second term he bland. After thirty-the above of in My Friends, you will never any and an acazy's offences were of a more personal nature.

We will use the last of the communication and ano sacrifice of the communication.

By Cathering the passences, and landed every one in safety on the bland, where they still were at the date of the communication.

By Cathering the passences, and landed every one in safety on the bland, where they still were at the date of the communication.

By Cathering the passences, and landed every one in safety on the bland, where they still were at the date of the communication.

By Cathering the passences, and landed every one in safety on the bland, where the passences, and landed every one in safety on the bland, where the passences and landed every one in safety on the bland, where the passence and the communication and any or any days in 1884. One last chance to register remains. At 9 o'clock to-night the books will be finally closed, and all who remain unregprivilege and duty of voting. It is of the ut-Therefore, do not fail to register!

MR. BLAINE'S ARRAIGNMENT. stronghold of free-trade Democracy.

and ardent protectionists.

effect are to be judged. When he entered temper. there was a tremendous outburst of enthusiasm, in which, however, a portion of the audience took but little part. When he spoke earnestly and strongly of the attempt by a British Minister in this country to sway voters to favor a Presidential candidate, his indignant censure met the approval of a great proportion of his hearers. But when he showed that British interest in Mr. Cleveland's election was largely due to British anxiety to break down the protective system in this country, the feeling of the audience seemed stronger and more general than at any other time. Beyond a doubt Mr. Blaine touched the sympathy and commanded the intelligent approval of the great majority of American citizens, in resenting and rebuking the effort of a British Minister to promote British manufacturing and trading interests, by helping to overthrow the American policy under which this Nation has attained such a magnificent development.

The letter of the British Minister is of im portance and kindles just indignation, not merely or mainly because it was a violation of diplomatic proprieties. It is of comparatively little consequence to Americans whether Lord Sackville has served his sovereign with skill. with tact or with scrupulous attention to etiquette. But it is of the greatest consequence for them to know that the British Government does in fact long for Mr. Cleveland's election, because it is convinced that he will favor a distinctively British instead of an American policy in our National affairs. Lord Sackville has had the very best opportunity to know whereof he speaks. When he affirms that the President can be expected to serve English interests and to act in accord with the wishes of the English Government, especially with regard to the defence of American industries, that statement is of great weight. Its force and importance would not be lessened in the slightest degree if the British Minister, because of his violation of official proprieties, should be invited to some other sphere of duty.

SOME DIPLOMATIC PARALLELS. The British Minister's blunder has driver the Democratic managers to the verge of despair. They are casting about to see whether disaster. There are frantic outcries from Democratic journals for the immediate recall of Lord very simple method of meeting this want will Burchard, as he has already been grimly named. be for every Republican paper in the State to to his kindred and his neighbors? As their solicitude is shared by members of the Cabinet, it is not improbable that the President has already been importuned by his closest political advisers to counteract the fatal effects stroke like the Retaliation Message. An abrupt request for the dismissal of the British Minister would be a paltry expedient, for it would not remove the sting of his meddlesome intervention on behalf of the candidate whose election friends being the wiser. perform this duty without delay. Don't put it | England desires from motives of enlightened gestion Democratic journals have to offer in this crisis of their party's fortunes. It may the State should do the same, giving notice in not be premature to discuss it in the light of advance of the publication. Great care should diplomatic precedents.

Three parallels have already been drawn in these columns-the cases of Ministers Genet, Catacazy and Jackson. To these "The Sun' adds another-that of Poussin, the French Minences to the Yrujo and several other similar cases. Since the foundation of the Government the American people have been jealous public and political affairs. Washington himself sanctioned this feeling when, in his farewell address, he said: "Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence, I conjure you to believe me, fellow-citizens, the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake, since history and experience prove that foreign influence is among the most baneful foes of republican government." The first President demanded the recall of Genet, the French Minister, for participating in American public affairs and for denouncing the conduct of the Administrasensitive to criticism of American representatives abroad, particularly Mr. Morris and Mr. Monroe in France, for giving advice and sup-Administration that avoidance of political in- lican candidate's most honorable possessions. terference by Ambassadors and Consuls became a recognized canon of American diplomacy.

The dismissal of Yrujo, the Spanish Minister, in 1806 was grounded on an attempt on his part to influence an American newspaper to advocate his view of a boundary question then in controversy between the two Governments This was held to be a case of unwarrantable interference with public opinion. The Jackson episode followed in 1810, the offence of the British Minister being a series of wanton reflections upon the good faith of the Secretary of State and the Administration. Congress passed a joint resolution sustaining the Madison Administration in dismissing him and declaring his course to be indecorous and insulting. Poussin, the French Minister, was It was not to be expected that the third day | furnished with his passports by President Tayof registration would show so large a total as | lor for referring contemptuously to the Amerithe phenomenal figures of the first and s and can Administration and Navy in his communidays. Yesterday's result, however, is in excess cations with the State Department. His language was held to be insulting, and he was task which most candidates might well seek to number of voters enrolled was 66,041, and the promptly rebuked for his discourtesy. Cat- avoid. General Harrison made no use of inministration and was forced to retire from situation, because he was content to honor those Washington.

These cases, while not bearing a close re istered at that time will be debarred from the semblance to the present instance, serve the general purpose of furnishing a basis for commost importance that no Republican shall be parison. Lord Sackville has not made himself disfranchised at the election ten days hence. personally obnoxious to the Administration as Catacazy, Jackson and Poussin succeeded in doing in their time; nor has he taken part in public affairs as openly and recklessly as Yrnjo The magnificent demonstration which packed and Genet did ninety years ago. He has atthe enormous structure at Madison Square on tempted to influence the opinion of voters in a Thursday night was indeed, as Democratic political election; and this is a most serious and papers snarlingly observe, a testimony to the flagrant offence; but he has not acted, as the remarkable popularity of Mr. Blaine. The other Ministers mentioned had done, in hostility scene when he entered the house was indeed to the Administration of the day. On the conone rarely witnessed, and one which probably trary, he admires that Administration and has no other living American could have produced. desired to aid it in remaining in power. At But then, the great demonstration was some- the same time, his assistance has tended to disthing more. It testified most elequently to the credit not only that Administration, but the strength of the protective sentiment in this Senate as well. His letter to his California correspondent was designed to convey the idea To appreciate this, it should be noticed that that the President was insincere and disinseveral speakers prior to Mr. Blaine's arrival genuous in his Retaliation Message precisely had thoroughly tested the character and tem- as the Republican Senate had been influenced per of the vast audience, even when it was solely by partisanship in its rejection of the largest and most impatient. Many times they Fisheries Treaty. If there were any doubt had touched upon purely Irish topics, and these respecting the construction of his letter, he rehad been received with applause in which moved it himself in one of the published interabout three-quarters of the great audience views when he declared : "Of course, I underseemed to join heartily. But at other times stand that both the action of the Senate and they had appealed to the protective sentiment, the President's letter of retaliation were for and then there had been more general and political effect. In a general election it is but hearty applause than at any other time during natural that every point should be seized upon the whole evening. It was a vast gathering, of by both parties which would have an effect which about three-fourths were citizens of upon the voters." These affronts to the Ad-Irish extraction, but nearly all were earnest ministration and Senate furnish the main ground for aggressive action against him, if By these facts Mr. Blaine's speech and its the Administration be bent upon a display of

> SOME DEMOCRATIC FALSEHOODS. . Democratic mendacity always becomes more audacious, unscrupulous and shameless as Election Day draws near. The Democratic papers are now indulging freely in unblushing falsehoods concerning the recent detection, arrest and conviction of a tramp repeater downtown. Now it is a positive matter of sworn affidavits that this case of fraudulent registration was detected by a Republican, that the proofs were gathered and the formal complaint made by a Republican; that the $2,000 reward for the detection and punishment of the offender was paid by a Republican Committee, having been taken for that purpose from the fund set apart by the Republican National Committee and made up from Republican contributions.

The man who was convicted of fraudulent registration was not a Republican at all. He was a tramp "floater" of no principles and no party affiliations, who intended, if he succeeded in his illegal registration, to sell his vote to the highest bidder. The highest bidder would certainly have been found among some of the furious Democratic partisans in the city, who have allowed their feelings over the Mayoralty contest and other faction fights here to become white hot. The Democratic papers which have distorted the truth in this matter, and have tried to turn to the discredit of the Republican party a most creditable, honorable and successful plan to punish fraudulent registration, and to prevent fraudulent votes, are so wild and reckless in their misrepresentations that nothing which they can say concerning political matters will be accepted as trustworthy by any fair-minded person.

TO REPUBLICAN EDITORS.

The vest-pocket vote will be important this year in this State. There will be many Democrats, faithful to their party on National issues. for David B. Hill. There are Democrats who | they believe in "the Brotherhood of Men under takes courage for even a conscientious Demoanything can be done to retrieve impending to Republicans for ballots, and who will not be in a way to get them without doing so. A print the Republican ticket, being careful to In this way any Democrat who wants to vote of Lord Sackville's correspondence by a boid for Harrison as the representative of protection | hardly be otherwise. He can find abundant abiding classes can get a ballot, which he can Election Day without any of his Democratic be taken that the ballot be exactly correct, not | which we call High License. only in the spelling of the names of candidates. but that the letter of the law as to the style of printing, etc., be strictly complied with. To make sure of this, editors will do well to obthem accurately.

In addition to this, ballots ought to be sent to every voter in the State, if possible. No of the interference of foreign Ambassadors in Democratic vest-pocket that yawns for a Republican ballot should be allowed to go empty.

A CANDIDATE ABOVE SLANDER. Once more General Harrison has satisfied the highest estimate of his character and temperament under circumstances peculiarly adapted to test both. The miserable falsehood that imputed to him the sentiment that a dollar a day is enough for a laboring man was never believed by a single man who had any means of knowing the truth, nor proclaimed by a single man who had the decency to acknowltion and Congress. He was also extremely edge the truth. The respectable Democrats of Indiana have refused to employ it as campaign ammunition. It has prolonged a feeble existence only through the malignant efforts port to political parties. It was during his of men whose hostility is one of the Repuband it gave its last gasp on Thursday in Indianapolis in the presence of a great concourse of honest workingmen.

No personal solicitude moved General Harrison to an explicit and absolute denial of the words which malice had put in his mouth. He was actuated by a feeling which he thus expressed to the enthusiastic laborers before him: "I felt that in return I could not omit to say what I have said, not because you needed to be assured of my friendliness, but in recognition of a confidence that falsehood and slander could not shake." This simple avowal and the whole speech from which it is quoted serve to show the fibre of the speaker. A candidate who, after the stress and strain of a campaign and on the eve of the election, takes up an inquiry personal to himself, in which his mind and heart are both exposed to scrutiny, and who makes it the medium of a clearer revelation of his innate nobility of spirit, accomplishes a before him by telling the plain truth simply.

THE CLERGYMEN'S APPEAL.

The appeal of 229 clergymen to the voters of New-York, which we published yesterday, was a most extraordinary document. We doubt if its like has ever been seen in a State campaign. Here was a great body of clergymen, representing the Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists, Roman Catholics, Congregationalists, Episcopalians, Hebrews, Reformed Dutch and Independents, acting without distinction of party in calling upon the citizens of New-York to rise above all ordinary political considerations and vote for Warner Miller as the candidate whom it is a duty to support. They declare that they do this because they "are charged with the responsibility of being teachers of public morals." They call the attention of the people of the State to the following facts: First-Governor D. B. Hill, a candidate for the office of Chief Executive of the State, was indorsed by the I touor Dealers' Association, assembled in Buffalo be Second-He secured that support by being the avowed opponent of all restrictive legislation, vetoing the acts of the Legislature on that subject, including that by which it was attempted to banish the sale of liquors from the Capitol and public buildings of the attempts to purify and keep inviolate the ballot, and by published utterances and official acts allied himself with the most dangerous and lawless elements of the Commonwealth, showing by his utterances and acus his alliance with the saloon, which is in direct opposition to the work of the Church, morality and good order. Fourth-Opposed to this champion of the dram-shop we have presented to us the Hon. Warner Miller as a candidate for the office of Chief Executive, who in his personal character and by his repeated public declarations has placed himself unequivocally on the side of moral and political reform, while his private character and public life are sufficient guarantee of good

Fifth-The power of the saloon, the baser elements of society, and, as we have every reason to believe, an im-mense corruption fund raised from the liquor traffic.

Sixth-Therefore, we, the undersigned, appeal to all good citizens who are in sympathy with the cause of temperance, a pure ballot, the sanctity of the Sabbath and moral order, irrespective of political affiliation. to give their hearty support to the Hon. Warner Miller for the office of Governor of the State of New-York

To this terrible arraignment are attached the names of many of our foremost clergymen. Would they have done this if they had not felt that the coming election presented a real emergency? Ought not any respectable Democrat, who may think of voting for David B. Hill, to pause and consider the solemn protest of this great body of representative and conscientious men?

THE BIBLE AND FREE TRADE. "The Standard" prints the following interesting letter from Bishop Huntington, Protestant Episcopai Bishop for Central New-York: Syracuse, Oct. 22, 1888.

You are well aware My Dear that my convictions are and have been for years on the side of what is known as Free Trade. They rest however, as you know equally well, on grounds of ristian morals, or the truth of the Brotherhood of n under the Fatherhood of God, rather than on any sophy or economy in politics. That political action, official or personal, can be separated from Christian morality, or from the principles of justice and right by any Christian man, of course I do not believe. What is required by the laws of the Kingdom of God, as declared in the New Testament, mus be always and everywhere best for human society, in all its conditions and nationalities, and it will so appear in the long run, whatever may happen this fail. The same standard of conduct that makes me always a "Free Trader," makes me this year in This State a voter for Electoral Reform and High-License.

Every reader will regret that Bishop Huntington did not expand his letter sufficiently to who will yet have too much self-respect to vote | say why men should be Free Traders because want to vote against Cleveland, but who will hardly like to do it openly. The Republicans Bishop demonstrate "the Brotherhood of Men" field Republican (Dem.) not see that this is made easy for them. It has voting away part of the wages of the mechanie who may be his neighbor? Would his no consequence whatever. crat to break away from his party. There will devotion to "the Brotherhood of Men" lead the liberty of saying is another matter. Nobody be many such men who will not care to apply him to take the last crust of bread out of the is interested in Lord Sackville's opinions about mouth of his own child to give it to the child of a stranger who was in no greater need? Would he not rather feel that his first duty was

It is easy to understand why Bishop Hunt- attention. have it properly "backed," so that any person | ington should be in favor of Electoral Reform desiring to do so can cut it out and vote it. and High License, and we are glad that it is so. As he is a Christian clergyman, it could or Warner Miller as the candidate of the law- precedent in the Bible for his stand on both these issues, for they are, in reality, moral slip into his vest-pocket and make use of on questions. "They afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside the poor in the gate from their right," says the Prophet Amos. THE TRIBUNE will print such ballots several | Electoral Reform is gimed at a system under days before election, and would respectfully which bribery flourishes, and to the poor are desuggest that the Republican papers throughout nied their just privileges. There is many a word, too, in Scripture to be quoted in favor of that practical system of lessening temptation qualified to judge, confirms the fact which Rethe welfare of one's own kindred and people, ister, whose recall was demanded by President tain ballots from the State Committee, or to which is all that is implied in the protective Taylor. The list may be extended by refer- copy them from THE TRIBUNE, which will give system, is not inconsistent with any of the teachings of the New Testament, as we understand them. Did not St. Paul say, "But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith and is worse than an infidel"?

We must crave the indulgence of readers who find The Tribune overloaded nowadays with polities. In a fortnight we are going to have a change; in fact, a good many changes. There will be a change in the atmosphere-especially in Washington-a change in the temper of the post offices throughout the country, a change in the British Legation, a change in the feelings of good citizens. As the times change, The Tribune will change with them, and its columns will be full of the new themes the new conditions suggest. Bear with us a fortnight longer, and you won't find politics so burdensome.

The moribund "Times" may be pardoned for welcoming the feeble glow of resuscitation of which it was conscious when it ascertained that a real live British Minister had actually increased ts circulation by sending one of its editorials to 'alifornia. But apparently it now realizes that Lord Sackville has not long delayed its progress to the tomb.

According to "The New-York Times's" report, Judge Thurman began his speech the other day at the Cincinnati Exposition as follows:

My Friends: When you inslated that I should come down here in the centre of this building to speak to you the words I have to eay you forgot one thing. You for-got to provide me a turn-table. In one respect the Judge is quite right-he recognizes his need of a turn-table. But the good Judge grows old and forgetful. He should mve recalled the fact that his whole career nowadays shows him already in the enjoyment and active use of an extremely efficient turn-table. He is running for the Vice-Presidency on a ticket with Grover Cleveland, a candidate for a second term; and yet as recently as 1872, Judge Thur, man valiantly declared against candidacy for the second term in the following language:

mense patronage of the Government to procure his re-nomination and secure his re-election. Right you are, Judge! You do need a turn-the best geared turn-table than you daily exhibit. The unregistered voter who does not register to-day will find on election day that it is a condition that confronts him-not a theory.

I would like to be excused from having anything to do with politics in the United States.—(Lord Sackville to the Associated Press. Very well, your Lordship, you are excused.

It is only fair and magnanimous to allow the Democratic side a final opportunity of presenting its case to the American public. We have, therefore, allowed their distinguished foreign advocate, Lord Sackville, to plead the cause of the English candidate in a final issue of The Tribune series of campaign extras. His correspondence with an American voter is reprinted in good, fair type, together with his own interview authenticating the letters and Secretary Bayard's comments upon the transaction. Having been thus impartial and generous in according to the English-Democratic party a hearing, we are forced by regard for the feelings of our Republican constituency to republish Mr. Blaine's strictures upon this diplomatic and partisan appeal. His speech, delivered on Thursday evening, will be found what Mr. Greeley used to call "mighty interesting reading" for everybody. This Extra, No. 110, entitled "Cleveland's Burchard," will be sold at the rate of two copies for one cent, with the usual discounts by the thousand.

"The Baron Would Blush" is a headline which we copy from "The New-York Times" (Dem.) The reference is not to Baron Sackville, and the Democratic sheet in question had no intention of hurting his feelings. Besides, Baron Sackville shows no indication of blushing. He brazenly says that he doesn't care, Weather Prophet Devoe begins business promptly this year. He has already opened the season of 1888-89 by predicting that a cyclone will take place this month. It is understood in the high weather circles in Washington that Mr. Cleveland has dug himself a cyclone cellar in the rear of the White House, but that he does not intend to move in until next month, the evening of the 6th.

If the voters of New-York conclude to re-elect Mayor Hewitt they can bid a long good-bye to any hope of seeing the telegraph poles removed. Mr. Hewitt has never betrayed any genuine anxiety to get these unsightly and disfiguring obstructions out of the streets.

It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of retaining every Congressional District which the Republicans now hold and of adding to the number as many as can possibly be captured from the enemy. A Democratic majority in the next House of Representatives will certainly involve renewed attacks on the prosperity of the country, interference with manufactures, and general uncertainty and anxiety. Republicans have a good chance in the 1st District, and should improve it. They ought not to fail by unremitting and zealous effort to send Mr. Wallace to Congress in the IIId District, which now belongs to the party. The Vth may be redeemed by earnest labor. In the VIIth, Charles N. Taintor, who has been nominated as the opponent of Mr. Bryce, the County Democracy candidate, and Mr. Dunphy, the Tammany candidate, is a citizen of much experience in public life, of exceptional ability and acquirements, and of the highest character. It is not often that the voters in a district usually Demoeratic get a chance to vote for a candidate of se high qualities as those of Mr. Taintor. All the intelligence and respectability of the district to do their utmost for the candidates is very strong should unite in his support. He has every claim on the enthusiastic efforts of every voter who desires good government. Mr. Hildreth, in the XIIth District, should call out diligent work by all Republicans. In the XIIIth and XIVth Dis tricts also the obligation resting upon Republicans

You are quite right. What he thinks is of But what he takes American politics so long as he keeps them to himself; but when he undertakes to insult the President and Senate of the United States in a letter intended to affect the result of an American election it becomes worth while to give him some

"I know no North, South, East or West," a famous statesman once exclaimed. As Mr. Cleveland sits in the White House to-day ever and anon biting shingle-nails in two, he doubtiess wishes that he had known no West.

A great deal is being said by the unhappy friends of the Administration in this country and in England about a trap having been set for Lord Sackville. If it was a trap, of which there is no proof, it was a trap in which the British lion doesn't look at all majestic. The point is not whether a trap was set, but whether a frank and unaffected letter, written by an Englishman well publicans have conscientiously proclaimed and But we do not recall any text that teaches Democrats perfidiously denied-that the election free trade, and must regret that the Bishop's of Cleveland would benefit and replice Great letter was not more specific. A just regard for Britain, because it would be a step toward the supremacy of British manufactures in American

The young man in charge of one of the elevated railroad news-stands is either particularly elever or particularly stupid. In fastening up a comic journal so as to expose to public view a double page cartoon, representing Cleveland and Harrison as engaged in fighting it out to a finish in the prize ring, he has driven a large, blackheaded tack directly through one of Cleveland's eyes. A blacker eye was never seen, and the effect is most natural and artistic. Moreover, it possesses the essential element of truth, without which art is a poor thing.

Mr. E. N. Dickerson's letter in vesterday's Tribune bristled with good points. Mr. Dickerson is a life-long Democrat, but along with his Democracy he inherited a love for Protection as opposed to Free Trade, and he is proud to stand now where his uncle, a United States Senator and a member of the Cabinet under Jackson and Van There is great disgust here at the astains mass into which Lord Sackville seems to have got himself. He was stated for Rome after Lord Dufferin had done a brief term there, but this foolishness probably puts an end to his career of preferment.—(Special London dispatch to "The New-York Times" (Dem.) Buren, stood fifty years ago. In those days crats to save the Union." In supporting General Harrison this year Mr. Dickerson considers himself no less a Democrat than he was then. His courage in expressing his opinion is as worthy of praise as the telling way in which he sets forth his reasons for his present position.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Henry W. Grady will deliver the annual adlress at the Texas State Fair at Dallas to-day, and s expected to say some very sensational things on General Boulanger's daughter Marcello will be married to Captain Driant, of the French Army, on Tuesday, and the event will be "worked for all it is worth" politically.

The Crown Prince of Greece is liberal to his ideas of statecraft, and mingles with the people in a Democratic fashion.

The Babylonian expedition of the University of Pennsylvania, which set out for the East last sum-mer, has been sh pwrecked. Professor H. V. Hilprecht, the Assyriologist, writes that the steamer bearing himself and Drs. Field, Harper and Haynes was wrecked Salurday night, September 29, on a rock off the Island of Samos. After thirty-ix hours of rescued from here is at present unknown, but we are all well and happy in our miserable condition, and the journey will be continued with equal courage. Right you are, Judge! You do need a turntable desperately and constantly; but you have had it and have been using it. Never was there a more conspicuous illustration of the power of the best conspicuous turn table than you daily exhibit.

address and a supper with resident friends, he started to drive back to Cambridge, in company with a number of ladies and gentlemen who had attended the rally. they approached East Lexington, flames were Mayor and his friends first aroused the sleeping inmates of the house, which was perilously near the barn, then drove back a mile to the engine-house, crying "fire" through the street of the sleeping town, opened the engine-house, which was apparently in charge of no one, harnessed a horse to one side of the engine pole, and themselves to the other, and finally succeeded, with the aid of people waked by the engine-house bell, in dragging the engine to the scene of the fire and saving the farmer's house from de-struction.

Mr. Oliver Ditson remains in poor health.

The death has been announced of Mrs. Virginia Hansor, whose husband was Colonel of the Second Kentucky Regiment of the Rebel army. She took great interest in military affairs and often visited the camp. One cold, cloudy day, the Colonel sprung a new movement on the boys. This was "By the right to rear pass defile," and was intended to enable a regiment to cross a bridge or place a stream or other barrier in its front, and at the same time keep up a fire on the enemy. Mrs. Hanson viewed this manoeuvre with great interest. The boys failed to get through with it satisfactorily, and "Old Flints started them at it again. The second time they falled.
The Colonel happened to pass near where Mrs. Hanson The Colonel happened to pass near where Mrs. Hanson and several other ladies were sitting on their horses, and she accessed him with: "Roger, bring the boye in—it is so cold out there, and I know they're tired." What's that' what's that! Bring 'em in! Marlam, who's Colonel of this regiment, you or me?" And then he rode over to the front of the line and announced his determination thus: "You've got to do it, if I keep you here till midnight." The regiment executed the movement in good style the next time, and Mrs. Hanson told Reger, that she thought he was "real mean to keep the boys, out so long." His reply was that he knew them letter than she did.

THE TALK OF THE DAY.

An old bachelor says that he rather likes a comical baby, but he objects when it becomes a screaming Fond of Luxuries.—Rural Dame—My goodness! Stop chasin' the cow, Jakey; she ain't done no harm. What you doing it for, say?

Jakey—It's all right, ma. Let me chase her some more, so we kin have milk shake for supper.—(Philatelphia Record.

It has been noted that there are only three or four chance allusions to America and American life in "Robert Eismere," although the seething religious unrest which is displays is more noticeable in America

Occasion for Alarm." Men," said the captain of the steamer to the frightened passengers huddling about him, "It is true that we are not gaining on the leak, but we are only fifty miles from land, and it necessary we can throw overboard 2,000 tons of freight to lighten ship. There is no occasion for alarm. We have several hundred casks of rum fur the hold that we can—"

"No occasion for alarm!" exclaimed a tall Kentucklan, turning pale with apprehension. "Captain, do you intend to throw that rum overboard!"—(Chicago

Some gossips in Rhode Island are saying that Mrs.

Peabody Wetmore's alleged snub of the Prince of Wales may yet make her husband a United States Senator. About every other Sunday some preacher down at Hutchinson takes as his text: "Ye Are the Salt of the Earth." And when he announces it to the people all stand up and say: "What's the matter with Hutchinson! She's all right, you bet?" And then they sing the Doxology and go on with the service.—(Lawrence (Kan.) Tribune.

It is getting so now that the better class of Eqropean monarchs can afford to travel in as luxurious cars as those which are usually built for American theatrical stars.

Gerald Massey is coming to this country to lec-ture on Neo-Naturalistic subjects. This country may be pining to hear lectures on Neo-Naturalistic sub-jects, but we don't think they will create as much enthusiasm through the winter as baseball did during the summer.—(Norristown Herald.

"The London Telegraph" has received 27,000 letters in answer to Mrs. Caird's question "Is Marriage &

STRANGE. She had learned the French of Greene (By herself), and, quite serene, She bought a ticket, costly as it was, for Cocqueleen.

(Wholly unassisted) in The abstruse pronunciation of the tongue of Cocquelin.

She could construe and dofine. (Taught by Ahn.) She knew she'd shine As a well-equipped, appreciative judge of Cocqueline. She rejoiced 'twas coming soon,
The eventful afternoon,
She'd enjoy it so extremely! She was keen for Coqueloon.

But remarkable to tell, since she knew the tongue so well, From the rising of the curtain to the point all which it fell—

Though she really didn't see flow so strange a thing could be—
The solitary syllable she understood was "out."
—(Emma A. Opper, in Puck.

Richard Jackson, of Dubuque, Iowa, has had 235 bolls during the last five years. After so many bot's he queht to be about done. First Sophomore—How do you manage to get your lessons so well without "boning"? Second Sophomore—Private tultion—how do you? First Sophomore—Private intuition.—(Burlington Free Press.

An amateur chemist wants to know if whiskey will dissolve gold. No, sonny, but it will make it disappear.

The Austrian composer, Karl Goldmark, was compolled to shoot a finch lately because it took up its quarters near his house at Granden and prevented him from composing. We shuder to think of the punishment Goldmark would indict upon an Italian organ-grinder if the latter were to stop under his window and play "Sweet Violets."—(Norristowa Herald.

He (on the brink of a proposal)-I like your charmng sex so much, you know; but really, I don's know how to take a woman. She (willing to help him on)-I think I can tell you.

" For better or for worse."

Tommy-My father is a church member.

Johnny-So's mine.

Tommy-But my father says your papa ain't, 'cos he don't never come to church, nor put nothin' in the collection box.

Johnny (bravely)-Well, my papa is an honorary member, and honorary members don't chip in.—(Lowell Office.)

When a man is going out to the races be calls them "pointers." When he comes back he calls them disappointers.*

St. Augustine has reised the quarantine against Palatka. The first order was: "Ship at once forty, kegs and six barrels of beer."—(Palatka Herald, Senator Turple says that he can answer for Indiana.

Well, that is more than Indiana can do for Senator Turple.

Midnight mysteries.—Paterfamilias (sternly)—Seems to me you are becoming quite interested in that Mr. Goodfellow.
Daughter (demurely)—Why, pa, he is homely enough to stop a clock.
"An! That, then, may account for the fact that when he is here in the evening you never know what time it is."—(Philadelphia Record.

Says "The Methodist Times," of China: "Chinese Christians ought to be allowed to use tea at the administration of the Lord's Supper." And it adds that this opinion "is indorsed by the Church of England Eishop of Hong Kong, and some of the experienced and enlightened missionaries."

Appearances are Deceitful.—Stranger (to rather seedy-looking old German)—1 would like to see the proprietor of this establishment.
Old Man—Vell, sir, I vos dot proprietor.
Stranger (dublonsly)—You don't tell me so?
Old Man—Va, dot vas so. D'ye think dose tam fool clerks mit dere eigarette smokin' vas dere boss of dis place!—(The Epoch.

SOMEWHAT CRUSHED.

From The Binghamton Republican.
This is the way Hill felt before Blaine tackled him? DAVID BENNETT HILL. This is the way Hill felt after Blaine got through

d. b. hill.

STRAIN ON DEMOCRATIC FINANCES! Calvin Brice soliciting campaign subscriptions in Georgia.

Georgia.

The strain upon our resources during the last two weeks of the campaign will be very great. . The time is short—our necessities urgent. Please advise me of what we may expect.

AND EXPECTS THE SHINGLE JUST THE SAME.

Consul-General Waller, who likes a political tussion tetter than his dinner, is keeping his hands off in Connecticut, conformably to the traditions of the consular service. He is a good deal like the Dutch boy who was spanked by his father: he says nodings, but-he tinks tam.